UM-MILWAUKEE ONLINE PROGRAM CHANGE FORM

Current

Computer Science Minor. The computer science minor is directed toward those students wishing to develop some strength and background in computer science. This minor is also available to those who have already graduated. The 18-credit minor requires CompSci 152, CompSci 215, and four additional CompSci courses (excluding CompSci 211). At least 6 credits must be at the 300 level or above. More information on the minor may be obtained from the Department of Computer Science and Electrical Engineering, 229-4677.

II. Proposed Change Summary

Replace CompSci 152 with CompSci 201.
 Allow CompSci 211 to count as part of minor.
 Replaced 4 additional CompSci courses with; The remaining 12 credits.

IV. Justification

Course change required to reflect the replacement of CompSci 152 by CompSci 201. The exclusion for CompSci 211 was dropped to allow the minor to serve a wider range of needs. The 4 CS courses changed to the remaining 12 credits reflects the credit difference between 152 and 201.
