

Economists Ask Provocative Questions

Why is health insurance so expensive?

Did NAFTA cost Wisconsin jobs?

Is a college degree a good investment?

Why do gasoline prices jump on Labor Day?

Do “living wage” laws increase unemployment?

Why are some nations rich and others poor?

What would happen if drugs were legalized?

Would private accounts save Social Security?

Does electricity deregulation cause blackouts?

Can the U.S. sustain large federal budget deficits?

Are computers a threat to your job?

Should we give free medicine to poor countries?

Will home prices fall when Baby Boomers retire?

For more information about the UWM Economics Department check out their website at:
<http://www.uwm.edu/Dept/Economics/index.html>